

BLACK BUS

MONDAY, MARCH 9TH

6:30-8:30 PM

HILLEL CENTER

800 George Bush Drive, College Station

The film 'Black Bus' explores the boundaries between religion and state and the power of an individual voice. Anat Zuria follows the stories of two young women trying to resist gender-segregation in buses and public spaces in Israel.

Following the film, join us for a discussion with the filmmaker Anat Zuria (Jerusalem), artist-in-residence at Texas A&M. Admission is free for the campus community. Refreshments will be served.
