Virtual Ethnography: Exploring Religion in Digital Worlds

A talk on Digital Zen in Virtual Worlds

Join us for a discussion with Dr. Gregory Grieve as he covers the topic of ethnographic research on Second Life and religion

Date: October 17th, 2013  Time: 4:00 – 5:30pm
Location: Rudder Tower 302

Speaker: Dr. Gregory Grieve, Associate Professor of Religious Studies at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Event description:
Virtual Ethnography: Exploring Religion in Digital Worlds features new methods in virtual ethnography and offers a perspective on the field of digital religion studies. The lecture features Dr. Grieve, a leader in the field of digital religion, and specializes in ethnographic approaches to the intersection of religion, media, and popular culture. He will draw from his work on Buddhist meditation in the virtual world and his forthcoming book from Routledge entitled Digital Zen: Buddhism, Virtual Worlds and Online Meditation (2014).

Hosted by the Department of Communication

Sponsored by:
Melbern G. Glasscock Center for Humanities Research
Network for New Media, Religion and Digital culture Studies
Initiative for Digital Humanities, Media, and Culture
Religious Studies Program

Department of Communication
Texas A&M University
4234 TAMU
College Station, Tx. 77843
Communication.tamu.edu