

More than Moscow: Protest in Russia in 1991 and 2011-12

Noon

Tuesday, November 18

Glasscock Center Library

Room 311 Glasscock Building

Harley Balzer is Associate Professor of Government and International Affairs and an Associate Faculty Member of the Department of History at Georgetown University. This talk on widespread protests in Russia is part of his larger study, "Russia's Dilemmas: Putin, Population and Petroleum."

This talk is supported by the Melbern G. Glasscock Center for Humanities Research and the Departments of History and International Studies.