“Migration and Death as a Penalty at the U.S.-Mexico Border”

Glasscock Library, Rm 311, Wednesday, 2/25, 12:30-2pm

Dr. Christina L. Sisk is an associate professor in the Department of Hispanic Studies at the University of Houston. Her areas of interest are U.S. Latina/o Studies, U.S.-Mexico Border Studies, Mexican Literary and Cultural Studies, and Latin American Cinema. She is currently working on a book project on the representations of the criminal alien. Dr. Sisk is also the author of Mexico, Nation in Transit: Contemporary Representations of Mexican Migration to the United States (University of Arizona Press, 2011), which includes analyses of Mexican border film, la literatura de la frontera, Mexican rock music, migrant narratives, Hollywood films made by Mexican directors, and texts written by the immigrant second and third generations.

Sponsored by: Glasscock Center for Humanities Latino/a Studies Working Group

Please contact Felipe Hinojosa or Lisa Y. Ramos for more info: fhinojosa@tamu.edu or lyramos@tamu.edu