

Second International History of Medicine Symposium

February 24-25, 2017

Texas A&M Health Science Center, Bryan, TX

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Abstracts are invited for student research in history of medicine, healthcare professions, and related interdisciplinary topics for platform (oral) and poster presentations, as well as thematic sessions.

The two-day conference, jointly held with the University of Calgary, Canada is to highlight and stimulate student research and scholarship at the undergraduate, graduate/medical, and early post-graduate levels.

We hope (a) to foster exchanges across disciplines and time, (b) to create a safe platform for students to share and discuss their research with peers and faculty across State/National/International institutions.

Platform papers are normally about 15- 20 minutes followed by discussion.

Thematic sessions may consist of 3 or 4 presentation submitted together on a specific topic.

Abstract proposals should be 250 words maximum, and provide the additional information in the format below:
